

BRAND & MARKETING GUIDE

This guide is designed to help you present and market Vobling VR Fire Trainer in a clear, consistent, and professional way. Whether you are using the product in your own training services or offering it to your customers, these guidelines ensure a strong and unified brand experience.

VR Fire Trainer is a product developed by Vobling.

It must always be presented as Vobling VR Fire Trainer in all marketing, communication, and customer-facing material.

DO

- Always use the name “Vobling VR Fire Trainer”
- Clearly communicate that it is a product by Vobling
- You may include it as part of your own services (e.g. training)

DON'T

- Rename or rebrand the product
- Present Vobling VR Fire Trainer as your own product
- Use our images or videos to promote unrelated services
- Modify or adapt the product identity

LOGOS

PRIMARY LOGO

- Always use the official logo files provided.
- Do not alter, recolor, distort, or modify the logo in any way.
- The name “Vobling VR Fire Trainer” must not be changed, translated, or adapted.

SECONDARY LOGOS

MEDIA PAGE

Here you'll find high-resolution images and videos for use in your marketing. We update this page regularly so you always have access to fresh, high-quality content.

We provide in-app images and videos that are great for showcasing the features of the Vobling VR Fire Trainer. You'll also find photos and videos of physical products suitable for demos, presentations, or social media.

All use of Vobling-provided images and videos must include the VR Fire Trainer logo. Content without the logo may not be used.

If you'd like to use any of the content we've created and shared on our social media channels, please reach out to us for approval. Just email fredrica.eriksson@vobling.com and we'll be happy to help.
